Grenache 52% - Rolle 16%
Cabernet Sauvignon 21% - Cinsault 11%

Clay and limestone terroir

Fanny and her husband Anthony Lamoot bought in 2013 Domaine de la Garnaude, a longstanding vineyard in Gonfaron. With great passion, they launched a conversion of the growing methods, of which Fanny, as winemaker is very proud.

A pale colour reveals a floral nose with white flowers alongside minty and anise notes. In mouth we have crisp notes of fresh fruits, citrus and mango. The finish is round and bring spicy and toasted notes.

Tasting Notes:

Provencal floral nose, with fresh raspberries, anise, citrus & grapefruit. Crisp & bright palate, incredible length & balance with soft spices & minty hints.

Review:

"The wine's bright acidity is lively and has some richness. Dense red fruit flavors are lifted by a fresh, floral character & touched with pepper from Grenache in the blend." Roger Voss 90 Pts Wine Enthusiast 08/2022
